

For the many
– not the few!

Everyone should have equal opportunities to succeed and to get help when we need it. That is not the reality today. Too much of our collective wealth is owned by those who have more than enough. We need a fair and environmentally friendly society, both locally, nationally and globally. We want to protect the best of Norwegian society – small differences, low unemployment, and strong local communities. We must reduce inequality, strengthen welfare, and tackle poverty.

The climate crisis and the destruction of nature threatens our future. Profits are put before our planet. The answer to these crises is a fair and comprehensive plan for climate and industry. A plan that, with substantial investments, will provide assignments to the industry in coming years. We will transform Norway into a pioneer in providing environmentally friendly and climate-friendly solutions for the future.

The time has come for a new economic policy. One that can both solve the climate crisis, reduce inequality, and tackle unemployment. Our plan for a Green New Deal (fair and green transition) is about hope and change. Our plan will reduce inequalities, build up the industry and share the rewards fairly. We have to put aside the grey, unfair and unsocial politics of the past. We will make the country green and for the many – not grey and for the few.
